Light Service Equipment Transferred To The Town

Last night's meeting of the town council was rather a tame affair, most of the time being occupied by Councillor Rome in criticism of the government's administration of the new Liquor Act.

The minutes of the previous meeting were on motion approved as read, and several accounts were passed for payment, subject to approval by committees.

A communication was received from the Trusts & Guarantee Company, which accompanied completed bill of sale of the light service line. The amount of the purchase is $2,378.87, and includes everything in connection with the service line that is outside the property of the Rocky Mountain Cement Co. The above amount was due the municipality and school district from the latter company as tax arrears, the bulk of which now becomes payable by the town to the Blairmore school district, and which, we understand, will be done at once.

Councillor Dutil asked as to how action in connection with business-tax delinquents was progressing, and was informed that final notices had been sent out and that if returns were not forthcoming in the next few days the sheriff would be invited to do the necessary.

Councillor Rome stated that something should be done by the Council to protect the interests of the people of the town, against the "heartless" government police and spotters who, he claimed, were putting it all over the "innocent" foreigners in their search for contraband. He knew of cases where members of the A.P.P. had entered houses and made searches without production of the necessary warrant; that one place at least was raided, less than the limit of beer discovered and confiscated and the head of the house invited verbally to visit Coleman next day to answer some charges before a J.P., and this he did and was charged to "cough up" a substantial fine—for what offence he could not understand. He quoted another instance, where a non-in-law of his and Luigi Denotaria were both victims of surprise raids. The raiders found the "tanks" unarmed and captured "on—all the same Hun. They were both tried and fined in Denotaria's workshop, and the government never as much as offered red for the newly-converted courtroom. He could not see how the government's system of policing and spotting was accomplishing anything against the professional blind-piggy, and said that the actions so far were apparently against the innocents. He felt that it should be the duty of the mayor, in the interests of the townspeople, to take the matter up with the Honorable Charles W. Cross, with the request that a better system be devised. Of course, Councillor Rome did not suggest what that better scheme might be.

Congregations Unite For A Further Period

At the annual meeting of the Central Union conference church, held in the church on Wednesday night, unanimous approval of the union scheme was expressed.

Two years ago the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist of Blairmore decided to unite, their efforts in order to reduce expenses, the idea being to first give the Presbyterians the opportunity of choosing a pastor for a period of two years, to be succeeded for a similar period by a pastor of the Baptists' choice. Dr. H. H. Gray was chosen by the Presbyterians as their first pastor, and under his able pastorate which lasted slightly over a year, the advantages of the union became very apparent. For personal reasons, Dr. Gray was obliged to resign the pastorate before the completion of the period, and Rev. James Fulton, of Edmonton, was called to complete the first two years, which ended in March next. During Mr. Fulton's time as pastor, the congregations have been gradually increasing in number and none but the most favorable reports can be made of the conditions existing.

The chair at Wednesday night's meeting was occupied by the pastor, who briefly reviewed the past under his leadership and introduced the secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. R. Pearson, who read the minutes of last annual meeting as well as the financial report for the year which was most encouraging, showing that in spite of the depressing period through which we were passing the congregation had met all its obligations and could look optimistically into the future.

Reports were also received from the secretaries of the Baptist and Presbyterian Sunday schools; both of which recorded increases in membership and otherwise in a flourishing condition. The question of whether or not the union be continued came up for consideration. Resolutions passed at meetings held on Sunday last were read to the meeting, both declaring to be in favor of a continuance of the union and the re-employment of Rev. Mr. Fulton for a further period, and an motion by W. J. Bartlett, seconded by F. M. Thompson, it was decided to continue the union for a period of two years and to invite Rev. Mr. Fulton to remain as pastor for a further period of at least one year.

A vote of thanks to the organization of board of management resulted in the following: F. M. Pinkney, A. A. Shearer, C. R. Pearson, J. F. Hunter, John McLean, W. G. Pearson, H. A. MacDonald, W. J. Bartlett, F. M. Thompson and J. B. Harmer.

Collects $26.00 For Syrian And Armenian Relief

The "At Home" given by the staff and scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday school yesterday was decided success. Mrs. McElroy filled the chair in her usual capable and business-like manner. The object of the affair was to bring the Sunday school teachers, scholars, parents and friends together socially. A short school assembly programme was given, games played and lunch served. Mrs. Kean, the energetic secretary-treasurer, read a report of the work for 1917. This was followed by a strong plea by Mrs. McElroy for greater interest on the part of parents in the Sunday school. A pleasing feature was the planting of badges on the 1918 scholars.

Rev. Mr. Bell, of Pincher City, was present and gave an interesting address. Mrs. H. C. Morrison presented the urgent need of contributions to the Syrian and Armenian relief funds and asked for a generous response, when Mr. Kean passed the hat. The collection amounted to $26.00. After refreshments, a number of beautiful speeches were given, some good stories told, the singing of the national anthem. ## Gardening in Central Alberta

Marvellously Fertile Soil Produces Big Returns

That Central Alberta probably produces better vegetables and more to the acre, grown under natural conditions than any other section of the continent, is a statement made in an Edmonton board of trade in an attractively illustrated pamphlet which they have just issued on the Edmonton district of Central Alberta.

Nowhere, from the Atlantic to the Pacific can be seen such cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce, carrots, peas, beans, parsnips, celery, etc., as are commonly to be seen growing in the gardens of many sections of the district receiving comparatively little attention and without any effort to assist nature in the way of artificial watering or fertilizing. The marvelous fertility soil with the ample rainfall and moderate warmth without scorching heat accomplish more than the arts known to the eastern market gardener.

Potatoes are an exceptionally staple crop in Central Alberta and failure of this crop has never been known. With reasonable care in the way of cultivation a yield of anywhere from 10 to 20 bushels per acre can safely be counted on. Indeed much higher yields are often secured, for instance, in a field close to Edmonton the owner reports to have obtained 1,800 bushels from a measure of two acres. They grow to large size, and are of fine, clean, smooth appearance, and of good boiling quality.

U. S. Firms Control Canadian Fisheries

Dominate Lake Fisheries Because Chief Market Has Been in U.S.

The greater portion of the Canadian lake fishing business is controlled by United States firms, and this is due to the fact that more than 90 per cent. of the total output finds its market in the United States. On our Great Lakes, a very large fishing industry is carried on, not only during the summer and autumn months but also in mid-winter, when the fish are taken through the ice, and, owing to climatic conditions, can be transported long distances, without requiring expensive refrigeration. They are frozen naturally as soon as taken from the water and are shipped to various centers in the Western states, although they are also sent to the east, where a growing demand for Canadian lake fish in Eastern markets exists. From Fish, Birds and Game, published by the Commission of Conservation.

Extravagance Is Under Suspicion
A Canadian correspondent, writing from England, makes the following statement: "The extravagance of the British is under suspicion for those who imagine that they 'must keep up appearances' in connection with the consumption of food."
"To be too well dressed and too fashionable nowadays indicates the suspicious to regard the luxuriant one as a profligate or the near relative of one of these ostentatious."

Typifies the Will to Win

France Has Called Her Strong Man, Clemenceau, to the Field.

An Clemenceau is still the embodiment of youthful optimism. In his mind and in his heart, he is a great man, and he has been proved by his action in his previous prime ministerial office (1906-1909) to be a man of external and internal matters.

From his medical training he has retained the surgeon's gift. Some call him a destroyer, and he is in the same sense as the surgeon who quickly cuts out disease instead of trying to cure it. He has the faculty of effective impatience in dealing with it. His last great work, in the American Review of Reviews, "In word he is the lightning and he is in fact, he typifies as much as any man, and more than any other public man, France's will to win, he is the very embodiment of will power in action."

It is true that Clemenceau has a host of enemies. All the time he has to put up with the attacks of his enemies and his own. He has been called a destroyer, and he is in the same sense as the surgeon who quickly cuts out disease instead of trying to cure it. He has the faculty of effective impatience in dealing with it. His last great work, in the American Review of Reviews, "In word he is the lightning and he is in fact, he typifies as much as any man, and more than any other public man, France's will to win, he is the very embodiment of will power in action."

The London Daily Chronicle correspondent with the French armies states that a secret report issued October 4, by the chief of the German general staff, General Ludendorff, shows alarming lapses in the German artillery. The report states that during the year operations, the average number of guns per mile of front was 100, and in a single month after the year and a half of the war, the average number of guns per mile of front was 870, heavy pieces, 585. ## A Ford Car Takes the Place of all These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitch-forks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

Marguerite Clark Vision Of Loveliness

The famous players present the formidable Marguerite Clark in "Villa and Sains" on the Paramount Program at the Blairmore open house next week. The plot of this romantic drama involves two periods of historic and romantic interest, namely the Napoleonic era and the present. The old worn out method of filming a "costume play" has been entirely repudiated, and the director, J. Seale Lasker, has brought forth a new version of picturing this difficult type subject, by intermingling it with a modern romance.

Disincarnate Marguerite Clark portrays the role of a modern American girl and sister of her ancient French ancestors, pelicans, for whom she has been named. The leading men and women in her support are Thomas Hiddleston, Vernon Steel, Clarence Handysides, W. A. Williams and Fayette Parry. Pelicans is found, as the play commences, to be in a very bad mood on the eve of her wedding, for her narrow minded father is forcing her to marry a man man out of her choice, the detestable this young Felix Breton, whose cold,

She earned this money by selling tickets and raffling the apron which she won second prize on at the school fair. She made the apron by hand and had no help in disposing of the fifty tickets. Mrs. Russell Smyth, of North Fork, received the lucky number.

The Red Cross Juniors will give an "At Home" in the town hall on Saturday, February 2nd, from 1 to 5 p.m. This affair will have a two-fold purpose, of getting the people together to have a sociable time and to raise funds for the Red Cross Society. There will be no admission fee. Ladies will be asked to bring cake and sandwiches. A collection will be taken for the Red Cross. There will be amusements for both old and young, so don't miss having a good time by staying at home. All tickets having been sold for the night, the raffles will take place on the quilt. See if you are the lucky winner.

Nonchalant manner offends her. The only person for whom her little heart groans is Jack Desmond, who is greatly disliked by her father.

What Women Want to Know

Bona Quieres and Answers Regarding Cooperation of Food

Yale Play, Independent Women's Association as to what the food controller has done to ration food. The women in the manufacturers of liquor you are evidently not aware that an order in council has been issued prohibiting the use of grain or any substance that can be used for food.

As for your second question relating to the preparation of the war menu they are drawn up at the office of the food controller under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Muldrew of the domestic science bureau, a well known expert who was loaned to the food controller's office by the Alberta government. The menus are calculated to give the people guidance in their efforts to save the commonwealth's food.

The menus are most needed for the use of the front line troops, being used from one end of Canada to the other. It is not a matter of cutting them out of the papers each and pasting them in a book. By adopting this plan you have a complete satisfactory book in course of time and one that is up to date.

As for your third question, the time war than the books on which you have drawn. It is a good thing to put this plan into execution.

For your fourth question, far as your calculation that the regulations governing the public sale of food have been productive of excellent results. The per capita consumption of beef in the 35 public eating places which reported is nearly 45 per cent. lower than in 1914.

For your fifth question, the figures for October show only 44 per cent. of the amount of food consumed in the same period last year. Halifax used 80 per cent., Quebec 60 per cent., Ottawa 76 per cent., Winnipeg 60 per cent., and Regina 58 per cent., making an all round average of 65 per cent.

As an instance of what the United States is doing in this direction, by introducing elaborate changes in cuisine the Baltimore hotel, New York, has substituted rice, potato and rice flour for wheat in its menu, effecting a saving on each non-wheat day of about one-third or 34-cents for each room served.

It has been estimated that no ounce of meat per head of population in North America will make good the need for overseas.

Rose of Sharon, a novel idea for a building project. Well, what do you think of this one? The Women's Institute at South Hill, N.B., has set upon the scheme of giving all members a building site.

The Upper Saskatchewan Women's Institute, N.B., goes one better and makes all school teachers, as well as brides, members for one year. The habit once formed, the women remain members and the very insect organization to which they belong.

Speaking recently at the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the Women's Institutes of Ontario held at Toronto, Mr. Hanna said that the women of the institutes could do a great deal to encourage the increase of hog production, which is of the utmost importance at the present time. He urged the women to foster their differences and to co-operate for food conservation.

Mrs. L. R. F. There is nothing like asking for specific information on questions over which you are in doubt. If one lump of sugar, instead of three, or one teaspoonful, instead of three, were used by people of Canada the saving would greatly help out the demands of Italy, Great Britain and France. Italy's per capita consumption being 12 pounds; that of France was 38 and of Great Britain 28. In North America each man, woman and child consumed 90 pounds of sugar a year.

The Kitchen Soldier, a woman who caught and adopted the term which has recently come to life and is being spread like wild fire over the North American continent. "It is true that heretofore some of the battles of the war will be won in the kitchen and evidently you want to contribute your share to victory. Here are some practical hints suggested by the food controller which you may be able to diffuse in your vicinity.

Do not eat bacon or ham unless you are engaged in extremely heavy manual work.

Do not eat meat in any form more than one meal per day.

Do not eat both butter and jam with bread.

Do not eat candy which is made principally from cane sugar. There is an abundance of other delicious confections sweetened with honey, molasses and dark sugar.

In place of a slice of bread, eat one extra piece of butter.

Use less cream and more whole milk and cheese.

Use oatmeal, barley and corn breakfast foods, and buckwheat cakes instead of wheat preparations.

Waste no milk; condensed milk is needed overseas.

Drink fewer sweet drinks and omitting from cakes in order to save sugar.

Do not dispute the point of meat on the table. It is an inducement to eat more than you need.

Carrots. But you are entirely mistaken in your assumption that prices are higher in Canada than in the United States and that British.

A comparison of Canadian and United States retail prices of certain foodstuffs for October were made by the United States food administration. The United States price for a pound steak is 100 per cent. of the Canadian price. Pork chops are 100 per cent. cheaper in Canada.

The United States price for a pound steak is 100 per cent. of the Canadian price. Pork chops are 100 per cent. cheaper in Canada.

The United States price for a pound steak is 100 per cent. of the Canadian price. Pork chops are 100 per cent. cheaper in Canada.

prices of good quality fresh fish is 72 per cent. of the Canadian price. Milk is 110 per cent. Bread is very much cheaper in Canada. The United States price being 1.47 times as much as that in the Dominion.

Commodities on which the average Canadian retail price is lower than the average American retail price are: Rice, canned tomatoes, canned peas, dried beans, corn, and potatoes.

R.S.F. Ask your dealer to get the kind of fish you want. There is no place until he has brought the fish to the market. There are hundreds of women like yourself who are willing to try the new varieties of fish but are finding it hard to secure them. Fish is the natural substitute for the beef and bacon, that are being extensively struck off the menu. The fishermen are ready to supply you with all the fish you want. They are ready to use them. Then apply the middleman and induce him to bring unfamiliar varieties on the market in increasing quantities.

If you want to know all about them and the best way to cook them, write to the office of the food controller at Ottawa for a special little book entitled "My Fish. How to Prepare, Cook and Serve." Canadian and British Canadian. The book is sent to the soldiers at the front.

Retiring From the Farm

Fallen Contentment Does Not Always Result From Change of Environment

The prospect of retiring from the farm is no doubt being cherished by many men who are now engaged in the struggle for existence. A few are actually discouraged and ready to turn their backs on the old home and look for employment or business in the city.

Making Rural Life More Attractive

Analysis of the Problem of Keeping Farmers on the Land

To keep the farmers on the land when they get there has become a greater problem than it was when they first came to the land. They are not so ready to leave the land in the hands of the great cities, and we are old that millions of acres of land are being left idle.

The moose once ranged over the whole of our northeastern woods. Now, Minnesota is the only state in the United States where there are enough moose to be killed, and there are not very many there.

One of the most enthusiastic recruits yet accorded a returned soldier in this district was that given Sergt. Private, a Belgian veteran, who returned to Blairmore Wednesday morning after some three years' service with the Belgian forces in the trenches. Sergt. Private has received a letter as proof of honorable service in the case of his country. Sergt. Private has the unique distinction of being able to serve both as a private and a sergeant at the front at one time, if there is anything in a name. He left Blairmore in 1914 as a reservist called to the colors and has been in active service ever since, this being his first furlough.

During that time he has been slightly wounded on several occasions. His fellow countrymen—men, women and children—turned out en masse on Wednesday morning to greet him, and headed by a local band paraded the streets of the town, afterwards regaling to the Union hall, where a grand informal reception was tendered the returned hero. A programme of speeches which included a brief history of his experiences from the honored guest of the evening, was followed by the presentation of a gold watch from the Belgian people of The Pays. Dancing occupied the greater part of the afternoon and night.
